A Correction.
 We do apologize and do so sincerely and regret the mistake greatly. But to err is human, so there it is. In our record of marriages, published last week, we stated that Sam Pilkington and Minerva Ford, of Forest City, were married. It isn't a true item; they are not married. We got the item at the time from a St. Joseph paper, and of course, presuming it reliable, published it at the time, and were asked to correct it at that time, which we did, but failed to erase it from our annual record, hence the mistake. We are sorry, but mistakes will happen in the best of regulated families. Will you please remember that Sam Pilkington and Minerva Ford are not husband and wife.
